

Litany: A Call for Solidarity in Prayer, Courage, Resources

Leader: God, you are not the wind and the waves.

People: You are in the ease of the wind and the calming of the storm.

Leader: God, you are not the terror that strikes our hearts.

People: You are in the hearts of those who respond to help, to search and rescue.

Leader: God, you are not destruction and hardship.

People: You are working in those who bring healing and hope.

Leader: God, you are not the storm.

People: You are the one speaking peace—be still!

Leader: God, you are the creator of the Earth and heavens.

People: You are the God of renewal and re-creation.

Leader: God, you are the molder and maker of our hearts.

People: You are the one who gives us courage and strength.

Leader: God, you are calling to us to help, however we can.

People: For we are your hands, feet and hearts in this world.

Leader: May we listen for your voice; may we see the work you are doing.

People: And may we join in solidarity with Puerto Rico and all your children affected by Hurricane Maria, and in all places suffering after storms and earthquakes.

Leader: Guide us in the work of repairing and rebuilding.

People: Guide our hearts to love, our bodies to help, and our minds to share our resources.

All: In the name of Jesus Christ, we pray. Amen.

This litany was written by the Rev. Erica Van Brakle,
pastor of First Baptist Church of La Grange, Ill.

Copyright 2017 Erica Van Brakle. Used by permission.
Permission is granted to duplicate for use in congregational worship.

Connect. Cultivate. Change.
www.abhms.org

Litany: A Call for Solidarity in Prayer, Courage, Resources

Leader: God, you are not the wind and the waves.

People: You are in the ease of the wind and the calming of the storm.

Leader: God, you are not the terror that strikes our hearts.

People: You are in the hearts of those who respond to help, to search and rescue.

Leader: God, you are not destruction and hardship.

People: You are working in those who bring healing and hope.

Leader: God, you are not the storm.

People: You are the one speaking peace—be still!

Leader: God, you are the creator of the Earth and heavens.

People: You are the God of renewal and re-creation.

Leader: God, you are the molder and maker of our hearts.

People: You are the one who gives us courage and strength.

Leader: God, you are calling to us to help, however we can.

People: For we are your hands, feet and hearts in this world.

Leader: May we listen for your voice; may we see the work you are doing.

People: And may we join in solidarity with Puerto Rico and all your children affected by Hurricane Maria, and in all places suffering after storms and earthquakes.

Leader: Guide us in the work of repairing and rebuilding.

People: Guide our hearts to love, our bodies to help, and our minds to share our resources.

All: In the name of Jesus Christ, we pray. Amen.

This litany was written by the Rev. Erica Van Brakle,
pastor of First Baptist Church of La Grange, Ill.

Copyright 2017 Erica Van Brakle. Used by permission.
Permission is granted to duplicate for use in congregational worship.

Connect. Cultivate. Change.
www.abhms.org